Mill 6 Presents the New England Premiere The T Plays IV: Rush Hour Opens June 20th, at Boston Playwrights' Theatre in Boston

Back by Popular Demand! Round IV of the T Plays arrives in June. This time we'll present 7 World Premieres over 4 days. Chance will team up a playwright, director, actors and a T line. The playwright will board the T knowing only the number of characters and the setting (the very T line they are on). As an added challenge all of the writers will be riding the T during a rush hour commute. At the end of the round trip they turn their freshly written script over to the director and actors. Three days later the shows go up!

"The T Plays pack more creativity and cleverness into its hour-and-a-half than most of the big shows on the boards right now."* – The Hub Review

But there's more! Every night we'll be asking the audience to vote on their favorites. At the end of the week the Audience Favorite will be announced. Mill 6 is pleased to present all of the drama, comedy, tragedy and romance a T ride provides.
